Supply Chain Management & Ethical Practices

Week 3 – Session 10

Don't forget to tap in

Our responsibilities:

- Understand why students aren't attending.
- Provide support to help you succeed.
- Be compliant with regulations and educational policies.
- Report students who are not attending to UKVI.

Your responsibilities:

- Use your own ID card to register your attendance.
- Be familiar with and follow institutional policies and legal regulations.

- !! Do NOT tap in on behalf of other students. This can result in a violation of visa conditions and/or institutional policy and procedures.
- !! Do NOT give your student ID card to someone else to let them into the library or other campus buildings as this is an offence under institutional regulations.

Extensions & Deferrals – What You Need to Know

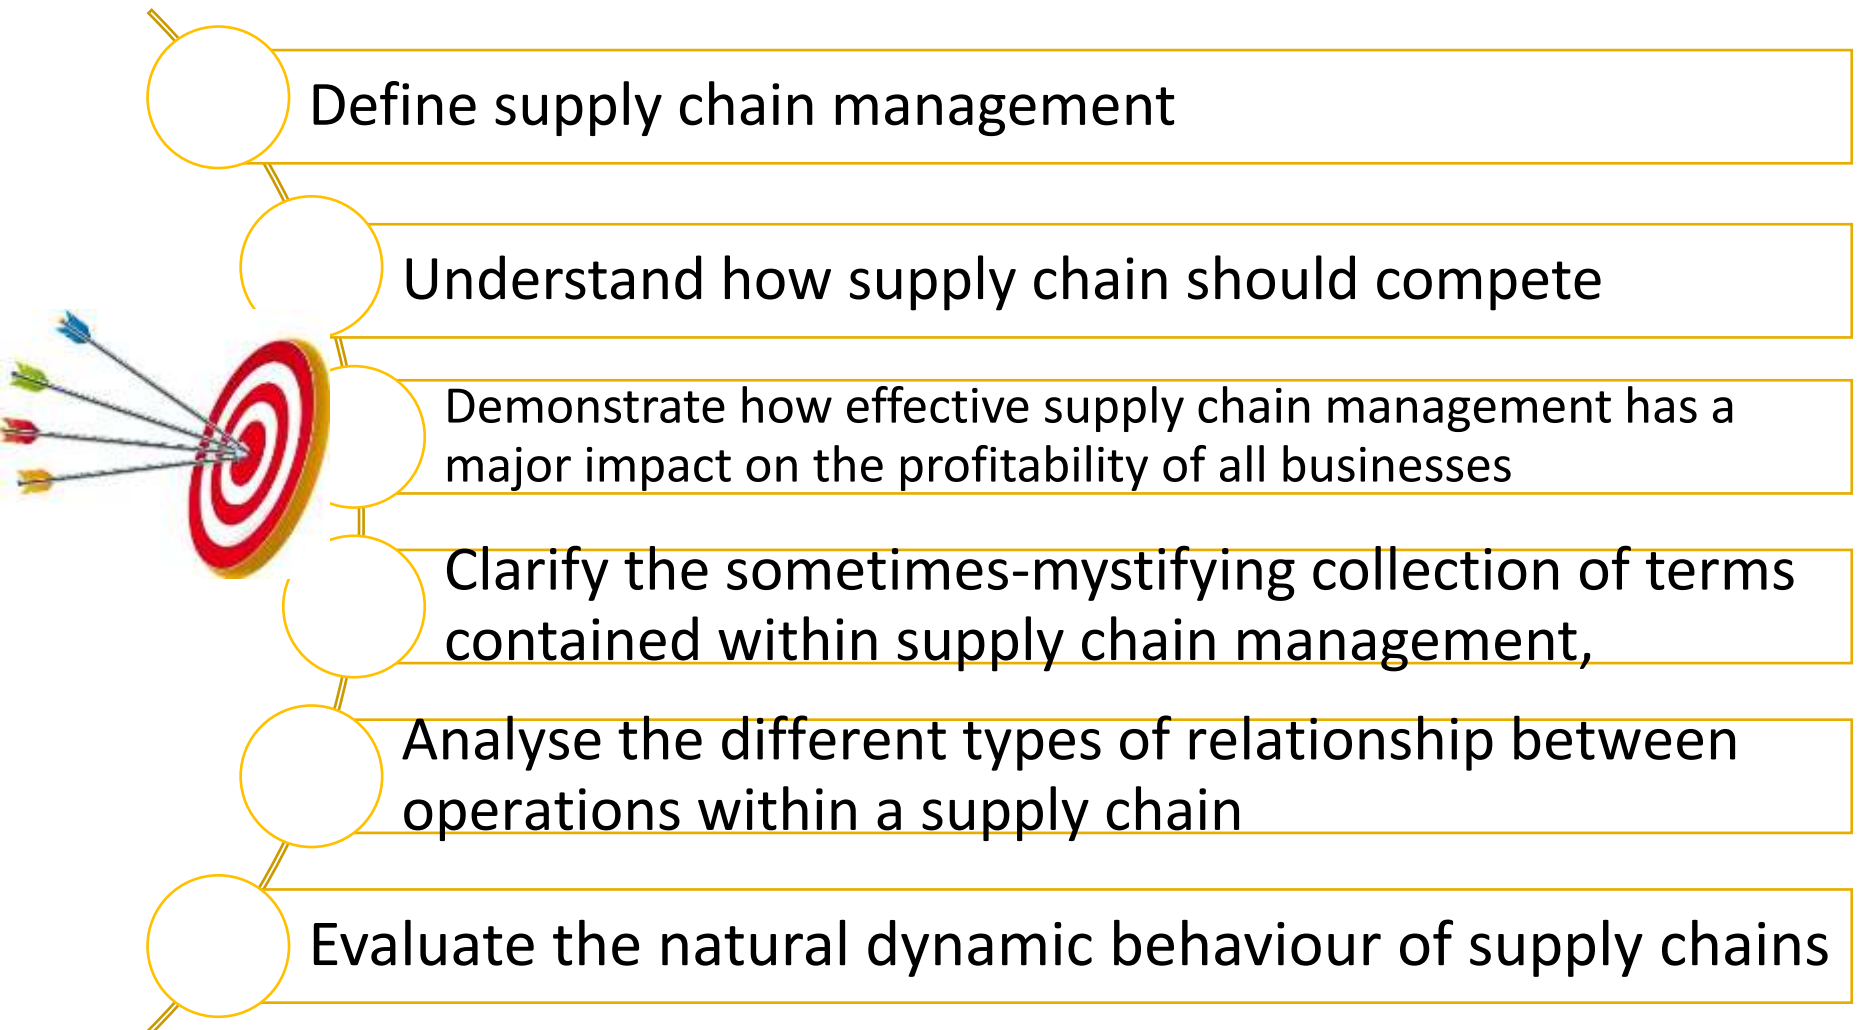

-  Deferring may delay course progression or graduation.
- Tier 4/Student Visa holders: Deferring may affect Post Study Visa eligibility.
- For visa advice, contact: visahelp.io@coventry.ac.uk
-  Use one form per semester for multiple components/modules.
- Do not submit multiple forms.
- Form link: <https://livecoventryac.sharepoint.com/sites/students-registry-extensions-deferrals/SitePages/Extension---Deferral-Form.aspx>
-  Before submitting:
- Engage with your tutor and library academic writing support.

What is a Service Oriented Supply Chain?

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=HTaV1mqTnt0>

Supply Chain

A network of manufacturers and service providers that work together to create products needed by end users

These manufacturers and service providers are linked together through physical flows, information flows and monetary flows

Supply Chain Management (SCM)

The active management of supply chain activities and relationship in order to maximise customer value and achieve a sustainable competitive advantage

SCM represent a conscious effort to develop and run supply chains in the most effective and efficient ways possible

Supply Chain Management

SUPPLY CHAIN

► Processes, metrics, and best practices

➔ Process, arrow indicates material flow direction

● Process, no material flow

↔ Information flow

Benchmarking the Supply Chain

Benchmarking useful

May not be adequate

Audits may be necessary

- Continuing communication, understanding, trust, performance, corporate strategy

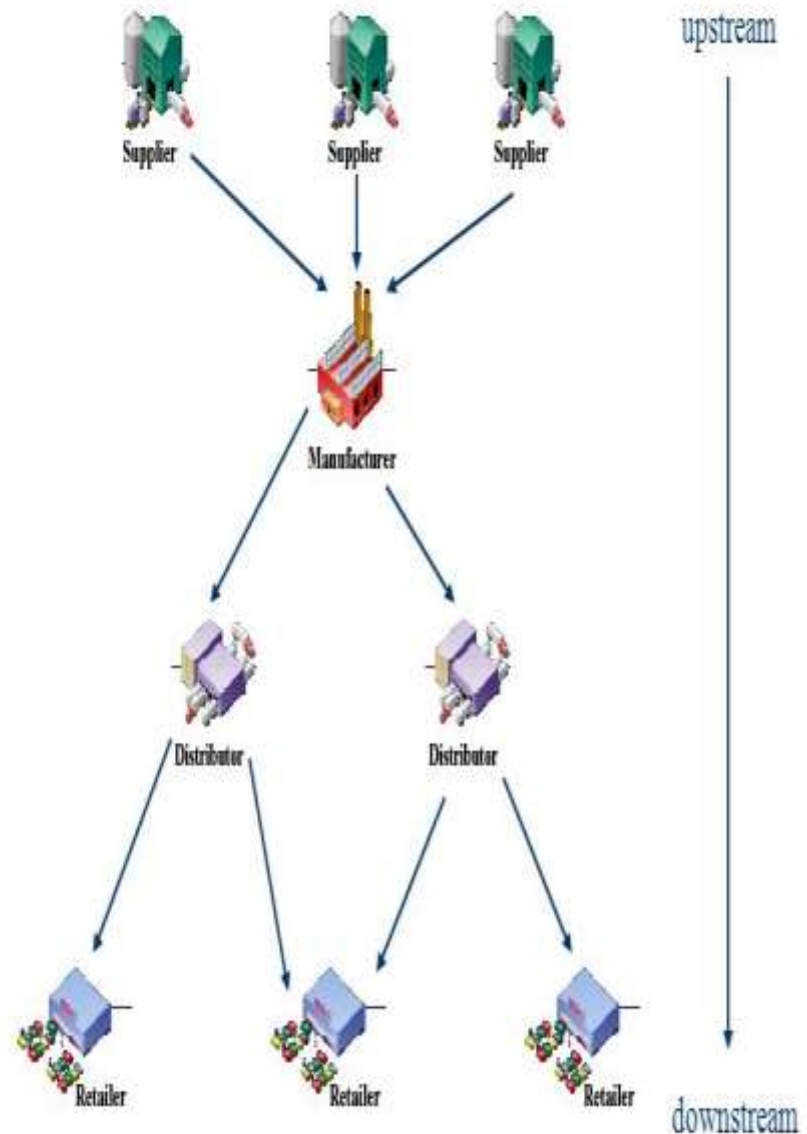

Foster a mutual belief that "we are in this together"

Upstream

- Activities or firms that are positioned EARLIER in the supply chain relative to some other activity or firm of interest

Downstream

- Activities or firms that are positioned LATER in the supply chain relative to some other activity or firm of interest

How should supply chain compete?

Performance objectives for supply network

- Quality
- Speed
- Dependability
- Flexibility
- Cost

Lean versus Agile Supply Networks

- Lean supply network – emphasizes efficiency.
- Agile supply network – emphasizes responsiveness and flexibility.

Supply chain objectives		Nature of demand
		Functional products	Innovative products
		Predictable Few changes Low variety Price stable Long lead time Low margin	Unpredictable Many changes High variety Price markdowns Short lead time High margin
Supply chain objectives	Efficient	Lean supply chain management	Mismatch
	Responsive	Mismatch	Agile supply chain management

Adapted from Fisher, M.C. (1997) 'What is the right supply chain for your product?' Harvard Business Review, March–April, 105–116.

How do supply and demand affect planning and control?

Uncertainty in supply and demand

Dependent and independent demand

Responding to demand

How is the demand side managed?

- Logistic services
- Customer relationship management (CRM)
- Customer development

How is the supply side managed?

- Sourcing strategy
- Supplier selection
- Managing ongoing supply
- Improving supplier capabilities
- Global sourcing
